

WE NOMINATE

Walter Duane Lockard, a practicing political scientist with wide-ranging interests in the fields of local and state government and one of the handful of educators now "tapped" for a role in the bi-partisan Constitutional Convention opening on the Rutgers campus in late March. Over the weekend the 44-year old Lockard, Director of the Undergraduate Program in Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School, was designated by the Democratic County Committee as one of the County's six delegates (3 Republicans and 3 Democrats) to the Convention which will grapple with the task of blueprinting a pattern for the reapportionment of the New Jersey Legislature in accordance with the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote ruling."

Currently serving on sub-committees appointed by Governor Hughes to draft policy recommendations on civil rights and housing problems confronting New Jersey, Lockard, a Princetonian for some five years, will bring to what may well be a ten-week grind an unusual combination of hard-nosed political experience and an outstanding record as a teacher-scholar. For instance, his highly readable publications, including the excellent "The New Jersey Governor: A Study in Political Power" and "New England State Politics," are balanced by a two-year term in the Connecticut State Senate and the Chairmanship of the City of New London's Citizens' Action Committee for Urban Redevelopment Operations.

In looking forward to the New Brunswick debates and wrangles on reapportionment, which are already fraught with political implications of almost every conceivable hue, Lockard notes that some 60 per cent of urbanized New Jersey's mushrooming population live in suburban or small urban areas. Contrary to mutterings heard along the corridors of the State House,

Lockard has stressed: "One man, one vote will mean not a tyranny of cities but a distribution of legislative representation to the kind of person most characteristic of today's New Jersey — the central city resident and the suburban dweller."

His dedication to the "cause of sound government," sharpened by his chairmanship of the Elections Committee of the Connecticut General Assembly and his affiliation with the Connecticut Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations, is reflected in his studies of such pressing matters as city planning, local home rule and city manager system. One of his major concerns is the position of the Negro in politics, a concern that has led him into research in anti-discrimination legislation with a view to determining what positive legislative program could be evolved to eliminate abuses in employment and housing.

This native of Monongah, W. Va., whose undergraduate education was interrupted by four years of duty as a World War II Air Corps pilot, started out in West Virginia institutions but completed the degree-cycle at Yale — receiving his bachelor's in 1947, his master's the following year and his Ph.D. in 1952. He launched his college teaching at Wesleyan University in 1950-51 and throughout the 1950's, before joining Princeton's Department of Politics in 1961, was a member of the faculty of the Connecticut College for Women, holding a Ford Faculty Fellowship in 1954-55 and a Social Science Research Council Fellowship in 1956-57.

For accepting an exacting assignment which must be dove-tailed into an incredibly tight schedule; for bolstering the Wilsonian concept that education in these United States is essentially a branch of statesmanship; for placing his talents and insights at the disposal of his adopted State; he is our nominee as

BACK TO SCHOOL
New Members Possible.
With school elections four weeks away and the scars of October still smarting, it was more than ever apparent in Princeton this week that the merger issue is still alive. These were the developments:

• The Princeton High School faculty unanimously urged the community to keep a single, Borough-Township high school.

• The Township announced appointment of a professional consultant on plans for the new high school; the PHS faculty hopes the Township won't buy.

• A Borough school board candidate, member of the Steering Committee of S.O.S., issued the first campaign statement of the season. To it, he denied affiliation with any organization.

• The Borough Board's Citizens' Advisory Committee said it was studying all over again the financial balance sheet of Borough-Township merger, and questioning sending districts about population growth.

• The possibility was raised of a second merger referendum in the spring.

"Deep Concern." "Recent events have caused us deep concern about the future status of the educational program at Princeton High School," said the PHS faculty statement said. "The eventualities of a second high school in a community of approximately 25,000 may not only be a questionable financial venture but also, in our opinion, will jeopardize the quality of secondary education that has attracted so many new residents to the Princeton area."

The faculty statement was hammered out by a committee of six: Douglas Coulter, Henry Drewry, Sylvan Friedman, Ronald Condack, Alfred Seitz and Frank Soda. With Mr. Friedman as lead man.

At a meeting held Monday afternoon at the high school, Mr. Friedman presented the statement to his colleagues. Out of a faculty of approximately 100, 81 were present and all 81 turned in unsigned ballots marked "yes."

Later, three proxy "yes" votes were received for a total of 84. Those who did not attend, Mr. Friedman said, were school coaches, or part-time teachers no longer in the building.

The faculty believes the population growth of sending districts could drive them to build their own schools in a few years.

COMMITTEEMAN: Sylvan Friedman, instrumental music teacher at Princeton High School, was one of six high school faculty members who drafted a statement urging the Princeton community to keep a single high school. He served as chairman of the PHS faculty meeting that unanimously adopted the statement, Story, this page.

"The withdrawal of their students will leave Princeton High with less than the minimal number of students required for an educationally rich and financially feasible program," the statement says.

"If the forces which seek to divide our educational community are successful, the long-range guarantee of excellence in our school system will have been sacrificed for short-sighted, doubtful goals."

The statement, sent to Borough and Township Boards of Education and to Borough and Township Citizens' Advisory Groups, urges everyone, including residents, "to seek and explore all avenues of mutual cooperation advantages provided by a single high school serving all the children of Princeton."

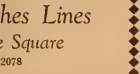

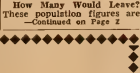

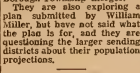

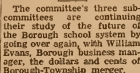

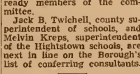

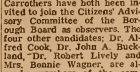

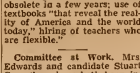

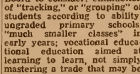

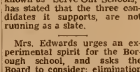

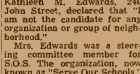

Expert Hired. On the same day, the Township announced that it has retained Dr. Morris Meister, former president of Bronx Community College, as consultant to the Citizens' Advisory Committee for the Township High School.

"I know no one more expert in so many of the very matters now before our committee than Dr. Meister," said Richard Pearson, chairman of the Citizens' group in announcing the appointment. "He is without question one of the best distinguished men in our field, and we can indeed feel grateful that he has agreed to help us."

Dr. Meister founded the Bronx High School of Science, a specialized high school for gifted, scientifically oriented students. Programs he originated there have been adopted in Union County. Dr. Pearson said, and the school is frequently referred to as a model.

When the school grew too large for its original quarters, Dr. Meister personally helped to design the new building. In 1958, he founded a new community college in the Bronx, an institution which now has 2,500 full-time and 4,000 part-time students.

Recognizing that many high school students, otherwise not eligible for college, could make the grade with some extra training, Dr. Meister developed "Operation Second Chance" at Bronx Community. He has received the Medallion of the of most profound concern to thorough Borough members and as the statement indicates, to teachers at Princeton High as well.

At present, there are only 240 Borough students in an 1800-student high school. If the Township goes its own way, 700 students will depart. West Windsor has 210, Montgomery has 375, Rocky Hill, Hopewell and Plainsboro have 54, 62 and 73.

The West Windsor Master Plan, published last year, says: "We will soon have too large a high school population for continued acceptance by the present receiving district."

The plan suggests that arrangements be made with other districts, or plans laid for joining a new regional district, and presumably the Borough Citizens' Committee is asking West Windsor to wait and see whether Township voters approve the high school and then to take a second look at Princeton High.

West Windsor's population may reach 15,500 by 1980, according to some estimates, and if the whole municipality should be developed, the population would be 57,812.

Montgomery's Township, which had been asked to leave Princeton High, expects a population of 40,000 by 1980, and Montgomery officials say quite frankly that they plan a high school for their own as they have the population for it.

Vote Again? And re-run of the merger referendum this spring? It's a rumor that an other referendum is held, the initiative would obviously have to be the Borough's, the month would probably have to be May.

According to law, such a referendum can only be held either 20 days before or 20 days after any general election. There is a school election February 8 and a general election March 1 concerned with apportionment and probably a primary in June, although this hasn't been decided yet.

If the primary is held in April instead of June, a second merger vote could only be held in May or July.

million. The proposed site is a four-acre tract of University land between the Ferris Stadium and Prospect Avenue. It is bounded on the west by Roper Lane.

President Robert F. Goheen's announcement pointed to the fact that the "continuing development of high-speed computers has revolutionary implications in nearly every field of intellectual endeavor." Dr. Goheen said that the centrally-located, low-level building should, by staged additions, be able to meet the University's "predictable computer needs" over at least the coming decade.

The principal installation of the University's Computer Center, comprising all of the stored-program computer installations on campus, is currently located in the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street. Its 8,000 square feet are seriously overcrowded and provide no expansion possibilities.

A series of studies by faculty members, drawn from the humanities and social sciences as well as the natural and engineering sciences, has confirmed that in another 18 months, Princeton must have adequate space to permit major expansion of existing facilities now being utilized around the clock seven days a week. As soon as preliminary plans for the building are available, they will be made public, the University said.

THE ROAD AHEAD
1-95, By-Pass Satisfied, Borough and Township joined this week in a one-minute-to-midnight effort to push 1-95 north and away from Princeton.
State Highway officials have called municipalities to a meeting this Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Trenton for the unveiling of the state's alignment for 1-95. The route may cut a slice from the northwest corner of Princeton Township.

At that meeting, both Borough and Township are scheduled to give the state resolutions supporting a new route, one blocked out in detail by Jay McIlarg, consultant for the Delaware-Raritan Citizens' Committee for 1-95 and presented to the Committee on Saturday in Griggstown.

The McIlarg route was also presented Tuesday in Washington to officials of the United States Department of Commerce and to the Federal highway administrator, Mr. McIlarg has discussed it with State Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer, who was apparently interested and favorably impressed.

In addition, Mr. McIlarg has received letters from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson praising his route as one which would contribute to higher quality and preservation of natural resources.

Route Along Sourland. Mr. McIlarg, professor of regional planning at the University of Pennsylvania, has laid out the route starting at Scudder's Falls and going north parallel to Jacob's Creek west of Pennington, then either north or south of Pennington Mountain and thence along the base of the Sourland Mountains. At the eastern tail of the Sourland, the "corridor" would allow the route to proceed either to Interstate 187 near Pluckemin or to South Bound Brook.

After its regular meeting Sunday night, the Township Planning Board in executive session, passed a resolution favoring the McIlarg route. Three members of Township Committee were present and in favor, and a telephone poll of the other two produced affirmative answers also, and so Township Committee will join the Planning Board and send its own resolution to the state.

Arthur P. Morgan, chairman of the Borough Planning Board, was with the Township Planning Board on Monday, and told the Board he was in sympathy with the idea.

The Borough had not been invited to Wednesday's meeting because 1-95 is outside Borough geography, but the Board decided, like the 12th assembly to appear at the party anyway, and informed state officials that if there was no objection, the Borough would send a representative.

Tuesday night Borough Council resolved in favor of the McIlarg proposal, and named Council President William Walker as Borough spokesman to the Wednesday gathering. Councilman Enoch Durbin abstained from the vote because he hadn't had an opportunity to read Mr. McIlarg's presentation.

"It would be a serious problem to the Borough if 1-95 went through Princeton Township," observed Mayor Henry S. Patterson, "although it always embarrasses me to say 'It ought to go the other guy's way'."

How to Pick A Road. Mr. McIlarg's basic criterion for choosing a highway route is "maximum social benefit and minimum social cost." In the future he prepared for the Delaware-Raritan Committee, he says, "The shortest distance between two points is not the best route. Nor is the shortest distance over the cheapest land. The best route is that which provides the maximum social benefit at the least social cost."

Social values, resource values, and aesthetic values must be considered in addition to normal criteria of physiographic, traffic and engineering considerations Mr. Harg believes.

He points out that the 1-95 has had an industrial cluster at each end, Trenton on the southwest and New Brunswick, found Brook-Somerville at the northeast with an intervening valley predominantly rural and residential.

He described the social values as scenic beauty, residential quality, the integrity of institutions, towns and villages. Any impairment of these values, he says, can only be described as "social costs."

A route such as 1-95, connecting the two industrial clusters, would be fine, if it did not bisect the central valley, he says.

"The creation of new industrial land uses would be unwelcome in the heartland (Princeton)," Mr. McIlarg continues, "but welcomed at either end, in Trenton or Somerville. This being so, the corridor should be selected to locate new productive land uses at the extremities, but avoid the creation of conflicting land uses in the central valley."

Mr. McIlarg says that his route is about six miles longer than the cost-estimate line prepared by the state, but would be less expensive because of lower real estate values and fewer engineering obstructions.

ARTHUR S. PLUNK, Princeton University historian, is chairman of the planning committee for the 70th anniversary of Princeton Presbyterian Church. Story on page 34.

Township officials do not necessarily feel that the resolutions to be presented Wednesday are late in the day. Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Township Planning Board, believes there is hope so long as actual work has not commenced and Administrator Joseph R. Nini feels much the same way.

If the state turns down the resolutions, it might be possible to stop 1-95 by injunction, or by blocking its passage through the legislature, as opponents of the by-pass have done for some years.

By-Pass? That by-pass has moved out into the news again. Senator Sider L. Ridolfi, Democrat of Mercer County, gave majority leader in the Senate, says that he and Senators William E. Orzard of Somerset and Hunterdon and John Lynch of Middlesex, have agreed on a Route 92 alignment which would by-pass the Kingston Trap Rock quarry, and that Commissioner Plunker is expected to agree with the re-alignment. Republican Senator Ozard, now minority leader, has dumped up Route 92 legislation in the Senate since 1963.

Backed by planning boards of Somerset and Middlesex, Senator Ozard has drawn a route south of the Kingston quarry. He proposes an east into the quarry from the by-pass. Kingston officials are said to agree.

"I'm more optimistic than ever about Route 92," Mayor Patterson told Borough Council Tuesday night.

INCREASE MAYOR'S TERM?
 Four Years Suggested. "It's a damn nuisance to run for office," observed Borough Councilman Joseph B. Strayer Tuesday night, as mayor and council talked over the suggestion of Robert van de Velde that the Borough Mayor's term be increased from two to four years.

Mr van de Velde also suggested salary increases. He thinks councilmen's pay should be raised from its present $300 a year to $250. The length of term would have to be passed by voters, but the salaries would be a portion of 15% of Borough voters would be required to get the proposal on the ballot.

A sturdy Democrat who has been a candidate himself, although not for mayor, Mr. van de Velde probably had a vested interest in seeing a Republican mayor hold office for very long. In any case, the four-year-term idea would not involve the present Republican mayor Henry S. Patterson. He does, however, approve of the idea and always has.

It would be better for the future of Princeton if the term were four years," the mayor said Tuesday night. "You just get started in your first year and then you have to think about running again. It would relieve the pressure to run and the worry about re-election. But if you had a four-year term, wouldn't it be hard to get candidates?"

Suits Worn? The suggestion came in a letter in which Mr. van de Velde commented on the shoe leather and trouser suits worn out in the course of duty and said it seemed only fair that since Princeton was no longer a "lively country village" mayor and Council should be paid for time and work.

But the idea of a raise made everybody squirm a little. Councilman Enoch Darbin summed it up when he said, "If you're not paid, then you're independent. If you're paid anything, then you're beholden."

Councilman William H. Walker then asked what about volunteers on planning,

Time Will Tell
The wind comes a-sailing Up Witherspoon Street. At least, it's not bringing A cargo of steel.

That wind may change its mind shortly, the Man reports. Thursday's forecast calls for snow, possibly changing to rain — all of which has a sleazy sound.

Cleaning thatsooter, and somewhat milder, too.

ening, health and similar municipal boards? Councilman Ellwood W. Godfrey said he wouldn't support pay for Councilmen unless they got paid, "on."

He proposed that the van de Velde letter be a springboard for a thorough examination of mayor - Council procedures right down the line, and Mayor Patterson threw in the idea that perhaps the very form of Borough government should be examined to see whether the mayor-Council system is right for contemporary Princeton.

He spoke in particular of Borough employees. "Those who are appointed yearly should be on some kind of tenure. Take Laurence Patterson, the Borough treasurer. I re-appointed him every New Year's Day and I did this year, but suppose I just got mad and didn't appoint him? I wouldn't of course and neither would any mayor or anybody who's ever run for mayor but there's nothing to prevent it."

The matter was so wide but not before Mayor Patterson had thanked Mr van de Velde, demurred at Mr van de Velde's characterization of himself as a frequent critic and called the village "a pit-a-pit-a-pit village." The Democrat had often come to Council meetings between elections, and agreed with Council action.

"But I object when he says 'sleazy' country village," Mr. Strayer put in. "It's a picturesque phrase, but I've lived in it."

Here's Good News for Fashion Fabric Fanciers

We're Open!

Come In and Browse. Discover New Fashion Interest at a Truly Unique, Truly Different, Truly Exciting Shop!

A new shop for all those who love to browse among the finest American and imported fashion fabrics is open at 195 Nassau Street. It's dedicated to the conviction that the biggest fashion news this year and nearly every year is in fabrics . . . in the luxury and smartness of the colors, patterns, textures, and weaves with which designers produce their most stunning and wearable effects!

If your wardrobe is individually created (either by yourself or by your seamstress) you'll find much to select from at Fabric Find. There are hundreds of cuts chosen with meticulous care from collections now being pre-viewed in Vogue, Harpers Bazaar, Seventeen and The New York Times. They're completely color-coordinated for mixing or matching, for creating the Look You Like for this season or any other. We constantly scan the market to bring in new ideas, new creations, new trends for your approval.

You can create your own suits or coats from one-of-a-kind Designers' Sample Cuts, selections from the work rooms of leading designers and the preview collections of quality mills. Or you may prefer to make a selection from our imported English or French woolsens, coordinated with silk prints or crepes! And you'll want to see our cruise woolsens and sprightly prints, our batiks, our classic plaids and tartan checks, and our novelty weaves. Exclusively ours in Princeton — the finest Shetland sweaters with yord goods dyed to match!

If you prefer to be Classic, yet Contemporary . . . if your Keynote is Fashion, not Fad . . . come in and browse for the new season at the new shop:

ROMANIAN KICKS: Two dancers from the 90 who will appear with the Rumanian Folk Ballet, in McCarter on January 26, practice a little like this: Lavinia and completely authentic costumes like these adorn all the dancers. Music comes from such exotic Rumanian instruments as the kaval, or shepherd's pipe; the largest, which is rather like a clarinet and the koba, a ten-string guitar.

News Of The THEATRES

38 CURTAIN CALLS

For Joffrey. A spectacular three-week engagement at the Kirov Theatre in Leningrad brought an unprecedented 38 curtain calls to dancers in the Robert Joffrey Ballet Company.

Whether Princeton audiences will care to compete, remains to be seen. The company will dance in McCarter this Sunday at 3, sponsored by the Princeton Ballet Society. It will be the second of the Society's three sponsored events in 1965-66.

Getting back to the Russians, the critic for Pravda said: "The choreographic style of Robert Joffrey distinguishes itself from the style of all foreign productions previously seen here." Audiences in Afghanistan, India, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Portugal added their enthusiasm in the course of the Joffrey State Department tour last year.

For Princeton, the dancers will give four ballets: "Viva Vivendi" in classic styles; "Incubus," which tells the tragedy of a young girl who feels herself rejected; "Contrasts," a four-movement mix of classic and modern styles; and in conclusion, a pas de deux, "Flower Festival" an interpretation of a mid-19th century favorite.

FROST AHEAD

"An Evening to Cherish." Will Geer stars as Robert Frost in "An Evening's Frost," due to McCarter on Monday.

January 24, at 8:30.

The actor will be joined by Jacqueline Brooks and John Randolph in this dramatic recreation of events in the life of America's "poet laureate."

The "Evening" was created by Donald Hall, a professor at the University of Michigan, and first performed there last season as part of the University of Michigan's professional theatre program.

Since early October, it has been playing off-Broadway to enthusiastic audiences as a result of critical acclaim. "... the touch of greatness" was the comment of the New York Times.

FOUR WILL DANCE

Quartet on Tour: The four skillful dancers of the First Chamber Dance Quartet will perform on the stage of McCarter Theatre on Sunday, February 6, at 8 p.m., as part of their transcontinental tour of the United States and Canada.

Charles Bennett, Lois Bewley, William Carter and Janice Groman are the members of the quartet. All of them have held major posts with such companies as the New York City Ballet, Jerome Robbins Ballet Theatre and the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

The First Chamber Dance Quartet had its genesis at the Casals Festival in Puerto Rico in 1960. Three of the quartet appeared at the Festival and received such glowing critical notice that they decided to combine their individual gifts into a small ensemble.

The 10th Victim (now playing): Here is a view of the 21st Century. There are no wars, but sporting citizens get licenses to kill.

Ursula Andress has gunned down her ninth victim with her sensational double-barreled lira, and Marcello Mastroianni turns up in her card file as the next object of the hunt. She plans to lure him to Rome's Temple Venus, then publish him off on live TV for a tea commemorial.

On the other hand, Mastroianni is a man who collects comics book classics such as Flash Gordon and Zerkow with current fads. He is told that his wife is a woman in the thing to do.
The rest is a colorful venture into sex and audacity intended as a satire on violence with a mishmash of futuristic architecture and op-art them-ing in.

IT'S NEW To Us

PASS THE PAINT
Need a New Antique? At the Saums paint - and - everything - else shop in Hopewell, they'll tell you that "antiquing is fun," handing out a phrase from the McClokey Heirloom Antiquing Kit.

Antiquing is what you do to furniture to make it look the way it looked a hundred years ago when, if it had looked that way, there would have given it a fresh coat of paint.

The Saums antiquing kit, or rather the McClokey kit, consists of a base coat, a glazing color and a clear top coat. It also includes a wiping cloth, a pure bristle paintbrush and DIRECTIONS.

Let us say you have a scruffy old oak chest, something that modeled for the "Before" picture in the McClokey brochure. You apply the base coat, working it well into the wood and allowing it to dry for 24 hours. This base coat becomes part of the texture pattern after you put on the glaze.

When the base coat is dry, you apply the antique glazing color sparingly, wiping it off lightly while it is still wet and leaving some to collect in the pot holes that characterize old, beaten-up furniture and give it that bow-have-we-lived look.

Applying the glazing color takes some skill, but not too much. You wipe rather lightly at first, then examine the effect. If you wish, you may wipe off a bit more. You can always apply more after the first coat has dried, so you have more than one opportunity, however, you should complete the glazing within 10 minutes after applying the

Sau!

Glasses from France spin around the display racks at Marsh's and for your trip south, you've got to have at least two pairs. There is the giant, round-eyed King of the South with white "mother of pearl" or the narrow kind, no wider than a squirrel, rimmed variously with shell pink, pearl gray or a wide orange green.

The triangular shape is new and amusing - its rounded point at the bottom, near your cheekbone. The top-cornered oblong may be more becoming, and of course you'll want one of the wrap-arounds with convex lenses.

More sun from Marsh's sun lamps. These start at $3.95 and climb with the sun to a cool $60, which includes infra-red as well as ultra-violet and multi-taducus switches and timers. With a lamp, you can get a head start on your Jamaican tan . . . or just stay home and pretend you've flown south. Who will doubt you?

color. Softer blending of interesting streaks can be made with the brush.

After a 24-hour drying period, the chest is ready for the finish coat. This is a clear stain in top coat which gives a tough finish resistant to seeping water, scuffs, bruises and careless guests.

Colors in the McClokey kit are subtle and rich. You'll be drawn to the deep slate blue of "Regency" and to "Old Dutch Red." There's an "Heirloom Pink" dusty as a Victorian Valentine, and a hearty "Florentine Green" for a small and special piece. "Spanish Gold," "Antique White," "Provincial Green" and "Antique Gold" complete the palette.

Saums also reminds you of the variety available this season for window and floor. Have you seen the wooden shutter frame into which you stretch a piece of fabric? A pleasant change from linens, although Saums has those, too, finished and unfinished in any size you need.

You may also insert a panel of fretwork, cane, metal mesh or bottle glass for a dramatic shutter effect. (Consider the bottle glass if you have a distracting view to screen.)

For the floor, Saums suggests those uncanny "bricks" that look exactly like the real thing: we like "Franklin red," but you might choose "Jefferson white." These "bricks" of Armstrong Corlon can be laid repeatedly or in nine-by-nine inch blocks.

Fake floors in gold-dusted noble would make a splendid entry way if you're bored with wood. That "Golden Night" black is really something, but the moss-green in gold and marble is pretty exciting, too. Imagine it on your bathroom floor . . .

Moderns may choose "Barceloneta," a cocktail mix of pebbly tile straight from a Spanish pette but traditional Dutch housewives will select the Delft tile in its deep slate blue or blue and white spatter. Did we say Saums had everything? There's even an epoxy paint to paint your bath tub blue if you're tired of white.

BRRR Keep Smooth. We thought we could get by without them out last weekend's bluster made us change our mind in a cold hurry. By "them," we mean the winter aids at Marsh's, the creams and lotions designed to keep you from breaking in two on a cold winter day.

 The hand cream (2 tubes for $1.50) is so great for winter hands that you'll keep one tube in the kitchen, one tube in the bath. It contains healing agents for chapped skin as well as smoothers.

Thitt's three creams for $3.99 and three lotions for $3.99 are March stand-bys this time of the year. Rosewater and Pevonia are just as good today as they were in grand-grandmother's day.

Humidifiers and vaporizers will keep everybody in the family moist and healthy, and probably benefit your skin, too. And for really thorough winter protection, use those Playtex gloves in the kitchen and the new Playtex glove with this fingerless when you are doing your own hair, especially if you are coloring or perming.

PEEK-A-BOO

Shifts Are Sby. After seasons of brazen hussy shifts, we find the docile, the feminine and the demure on the shift rack at Bellows.

Resort travelers will pack the long-sleeved cotton lawn with high square neck and a body made from alternating bands of palest blue and white. The beam ribbon is gold. If pale lime is the color, the ribbon is turquoise.

A sleeveless shift has a very high waist that almost collides with the plunging U neckline. (Did we say "demure"?) It's palest blue or palest pink with narrow bands of embroidery go around and around all the way to the hem. Gold ribbon on blue, or raspberry against pink underscores that big waist.

Some of the shifts have matching bathing suits. Here's one in white plique with minute forgetmenots embroidered far apart and shying away from a gulf of posies and olive green marking the waist but not pulling it in.

But the wild, wild color is still with us. A Mexican shacking pink shirt with a bosom outlined with bright Mexican braid and a shocking turquoise has an Empire bodice and six-inch bell cuffs ringing loud and clear with bright braid and rick-rack.

Bellows is particularly happy about its Wrasse collection, consisting principally of opulent silk prints. One brilliant print has over it a chalk-white sandwich board, each side by a wide band of fabric.

Another is a naked wool shift with drowsing neckline done in lime or shocking. The "naked," as you know, merely refers to the light weight.

A navy topcoat extends three-quarters of the way down a white skirt and covers a red overblouse of linen.

For the northern part of the spring, Bellows suggests a light piece of Bellows suit, a jacket, raspberry skirt and overblouse divided diagonally, with the left triangle all white and the right triangle an op art display of raspberry and purple. Blue pin stripes.

Portuguese needlewomen worked the crocheting on the overblouse of Bellows suit. The open stitching is lined with contrasting silk and the overblouse is lined with tulle. You'll find linen gold with blue and white, with apocryphal time with blue and multi-color with dusty rose.

over 35 years, and Princeton hasn't been like that for YEARS!

$81,923 HAS RECEIVED

In $615,000 Hospital Pledge. After one week, $81,923 has been received in gifts and pledges toward the 30-day "financial crash program" of Princeton Hospital to raise $615,793. The Hospital needs the money in order to build a new wing, known as the "J" Building.

In advertisements in Princeton's papers last week, George W. Conover, president of the hospital's Board of Trustees, explained the crisis: the hospital cannot award the contract until it receives as additional $665,793. An anonymous gift of $250,000 has been offered.

provided the community can raise the balance.

Gifts ranging from $2 to $2,500 have been received so far. Additional gifts, however small, may be made in cash, securities or pledges to be paid over the next three years.

Pledge cards may be obtained at the hospital, by mail or by calling 921-7700 or the development office at 924-9327. All donations should be addressed to Princeton Hospital Building Fund, Princeton, N. J. The new wing would contain 42 beds, and an enlarged laboratory and x-ray facilities. Its construction is one of the major steps in a master plan of expansion established five years ago after long study by the town's medical staff and professional consultants.

CASH REGISTER TAKEN From Sportsmen's Club. An empty cash register valued at $146 was taken last week from the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club on Terhune Road.

Carlo Perantoni told Township police he had returned to the club last Wednesday morning after having taken inventory the previous day and noticed that a pane of glass had been broken in the rear door. The door was unlocked.

Also missing, in addition to the register, was an old flint lock rifle. Two plate glass doors of a liquor display cabinet were broken but no liquor had been taken. Police said the only room disturbed in the club was its bar room.

Castro Company of Hopeville reported the theft last Wednesday afternoon of two power saws from a lot between Stony Brook and the Canal on Lower Alexander Street. They were valued at $300 each.

A spokesman for the firm said the saws had been left at 2 noon on the rear of a tractor. When the operator returned at 4:30, the saws were gone.

CHAIRMAN CHOSEN

For Planning Board. Hans K. Sander, Province Line Road, was elected chairman of the Township Planning Board Monday night succeeding Gerald W. Breese who has resigned from the Board because he will be out of the country on sabbatical from the University. John D. Wallace, Brarburn Drive, was elected vice-chairman.

Mr. Sander has been a member of the Board since 1961. When he was Planning Board representative to the Dilley Committee, he joined with Bryan V. Moore of the Borough Planning Board to recommend the idea of a Regional Planning Board. The concept was one of the Dilley report's recommendations and is now being explored by a Borough-Township study group.

In its only major action Monday, the Board approved the six-lot "Pony Cart" subdivision west of Bayard Lane where a riding stable formerly stood, but stipulated that

Fire in Your House?

Any resident of Princeton, Borough or Township, can save and have a fireman come and inspect a house or see to see whether it is free of fire hazards.

With Sunday's fatal fire still fresh in the memory, Borough Councilman, Eldwood W. Godfrey reminded Princetonians this week that firemen are eager to perform this service. It doesn't cost anything, and it could save a life.

Inspection is particularly important in winter, Dr. Godfrey suggested, when many people use extra electric heaters that put a strain on wiring.

Call either Borough Hall, 824-5119, or Township Hall, 824-5749.

JOHN STREET MAN DIES

In Bedroom Fire, George McGowan, 57, 78, died Sunday afternoon in the smoke and flame of a fire which gutted the second floor bedroom he was in at his home on 246 John Street.

Chief of Police Peter J. McCrohan said that Miss Bertha McGowan called at 3:07 p.m. to report the fire. He added that moments later the police received "a number of calls all at once" from nearby residents also reporting the fire. As a result of the flurry of calls, the police issued a general alarm and raced to the scene.

Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. William Hunter, armed with extinguishers, tried to climb the narrow wooden stairway leading to the bedroom where Mr. McGowan was trapped but they were forced back by the heat and smoke. Ptl. Hunter was almost overcome by the smoke and had to be given oxygen.

The bedroom was completely gutted, police said, together with a portion of the upper hallway. The McGowan home is located in the middle of a row of houses which are faced with brick veneer. The fire fatality was Princeton's first in nine years. The last occurred in the Township when four patients were burned to death at the Truere Foundation on the Great Road.

A veteran of World War I, he was a member of Charles Robinson Post 218, American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edith McGowan, a son, George McGowan, 36, four daughters, Mrs. Emma Saunders, Mrs. Rheta Hoagland and Miss Bertha McGowan of Princeton and Mrs. Lillian Green of Kingston; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The service will be held at 11:30 this Thursday at the Hughes Funeral Home, 324 Bellevue Avenue, Trenton. The Rev. Harold Thomas of Westminster Street Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Beverly National Cemetery.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

In Route 206 Intersection, Two cars collided at 7:45 Monday morning at the intersection of Route 206 and Cherry Hill Road. There were no injuries.

Township Police report that Charles C. Wyckoff of Washington Avenue, Hopewell, failed to stop for the stop sign at the left end of Cherry Hill. After proceeding into the intersection, his car was hit on the left by another driven by Barbara A. Leoni, 22, of Bordentown.

The Leoni car continued on for about 100 feet before ending up on the grass on the side of Route 206. Patrolman Robert Heseck ticketed Mr. Wyckoff for failing to stop.

POLICE SUSPECT ENTRY

In Elm Road Home, Borough Police have reported the possible entering of a home on Elm Road.

On Monday, a cleaning woman reported finding a rear French door left ajar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Knobloch, 186 Elm Road. Detective Robert McAvella investigated and said that wood in the home, according to chips found on the floor indicated that the door had been pried open.

Police were unable to determine if anything had been taken, pending a check with the owners. A number of valuable items were found intact in the home, according to Chief Peter J. McCrohan. "Apparently, they were just looking for cash," he said.

LOSES LICENSE, FINED
For Drunken Driving, John M. Regan, 26, 29 William Street, pleaded guilty last week in Township Court to a charge of drunken driving. Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr. revoked Mr. Regan's license for two years and fined him $200 and $5 court costs.

In Borough Court, Magistrate Theodore T. Yarn Jr. fined Jacqueline A. Kartman, 56, 239 Evans Street, $25 for speeding.

Paying fines of $15 each were Malcolm Muir, 50, The Great Road, failure to yield; Clarence J. O'Kane, 63, 204 Alexander Street, improper turn; and Antonio W. Arciero, 77, Cherry Valley Road, careless driving.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

By Adult School, The Princeton Adult School Committee will hold an open house next Thursday, January 20, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Princeton High School cafeteria.

At that time, prospective Adult School students may meet with the faculty and discuss which course they would like to take and what materials may be needed when the school starts on the 27th. It is essential that anyone starting a class that is continuing from the first semester in the languages speak to the instructors to know which section to register for.

A feature of the open house will be a display of work done by students in previous terms and books that will be used in the various courses. In all 45 courses will be offered this term. A complete listing appears on pages 24 and 25 in this issue of TOWN TOPICS. Registration may take place during the open house as well as in the afternoon from 4 to 6. This will be the only day for in-person registration.

COLMAN TO HEAD DRIVE

Against Multiple Sclerosis
Richard W. Colman, Jr. head

Richard W. Colman

Football coach at Princeton University, has been appointed finance chairman of the annual MS Hope Chest Appeal for multiple sclerosis. He will seek contributions to help support national research to find the cause and a cure for multiple sclerosis and to assist those now suffering from the disease.

Mr. Colman explained why MS is known as the great crippler of young adults. "It destroys co-ordination, causes paralysis and brings disorder of speech and vision," he said. "MS usually strikes during the most productive years, 20 to 50, . . . and it lasts a lifetime."

Mr. Colman added, Our appeal for MS is one that should reach the heart of everyone who knows and loves young people. "Contributions may be sent to Mr. Colman at P.O. Box 494, Princeton. Checks should be made payable to the Princeton MS Committee.

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

In Mercer Area, The Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area has launched a campaign to raise funds needed to operate its two centers in the Trenton area. The funds will also help support the activities of the National and World Federation Groups. If sufficient contributions are received the Association hopes to have clinic sessions every day of the week as well as another evening session to aid those seeking information of planning their families. Shirley Rennie, R.N., clinic director, reported that last year showed a 50% increased interest in the program over 1964.

JAYCEES ELECT

New Directors, Garret Heher and John Hoff have been elected directors of the Princeton Jaycees. Also serving on the board are James Shields and Robert Davison.

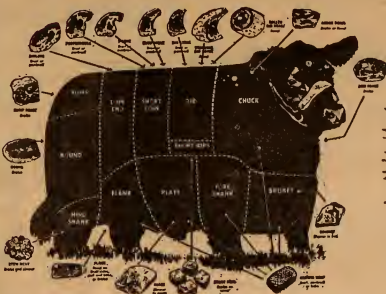

Mr. Heher's post was created as a result of the more-than-doubled Jaycee membership during the past two years. He is an attorney with the firm of Smith, Stratton, Wise and Heher. Mr. Hoff is affiliated with the First National Bank of Princeton.

Jaycee projects in the near future include a Princeton visit by members of the Job Corps Center, Kansas, and the twentieth annual art show, scheduled for March under the chairmanship of J. Randall Hagadorn and Richard Shreve. Elected to membership were William Baecker and Gregory Reinhardt.

MEETING IS SET

For Wyman Club, The Wyman Club will meet Monday evening at 8 in the Faculty Lounge of the Engineering Quad to hear a speech by Glenn D. Paige, assistant professor of physics. The topic will be "Long Live the Victory of People War." Wives of Princeton University graduate and undergraduate students are invited to attend. Hundreds of members are also welcome.

Mrs. Helen VanDillen, executive director, expressed her hope that in the near future a family planning clinic will open at Mercer Hospital. Mrs. Annus Kmo, president of the Association, said the National Federation is aiming at opening similar clinics in every hospital across the country.

OFFICERS ANNOUNCED
By Kiwanis Club. Dr. William E. Ribelin, animal pathologist at American Cyanamid Company's Agricultural Research Center, has been chosen president of the Kiwanis Club. The former club first vice-president succeeds Arthur B. Favreau as head of the service organization.

Other officers inducted by Henry Haines, Kiwanis, District Lieutenant Governor, at a dinner-dance last Saturday at the Forgate Country Club include: William B. Breeze, first vice president; Oren M. Asmis, second vice-president; John Carter, secretary; William B. Hildengorff, Jr., treasurer; and William H. White. Robert Greiff and Raymond J. Arrow-smith as directors serving a one-year term. William J. Quinlan and William J. Wood will continue to serve as directors until 1967 and Chandler W. Wentworth and Chapher E. Stays will work in the same capacity until 1968.

Chairmen of the Kiwanis community service activities for 1966 will be: Chandler W. Wentworth, boys' and girls' activities; William A. Dobson, vocational guidance; George J. Adriance, Circle K Club; William H. White, fund raising; and Delvin L. Gregory, agriculture and conservation. Also, Dr. Paul R. Kline, international relations; Oren M. Asmis, business and public affairs; Joseph E. Storie, membership committee; Stephen P. Hritz, student loan fund; and Robert Greiff, public relations.

CELLIST WINS CONTEST
Miss Weimer Selected. Patricia E. Weimer, 17-year-old senior at Princeton High School, has been declared a winner in the Garden State Philharmonic Symphony Society Young Artist Competition. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Weimer, she lives at 112 Randam Road.

Named as the winner in the instrumental division of the competition, Miss Weimer is a cellist who has studied in that field of music for more than five years. She was judged at an audition held last month at Toms River which was open to all New Jersey residents under 18.

Miss Weimer will appear Saturday, January 22, as a guest soloist at the Young People's Concert in Brick Township. She will also play as a guest soloist with the Garden State Philharmonic Symphony at a future date.

COLONEL TO SPEAK
To Women's Club. Col. Roger Willock, a retired officer of the Marine Corps, will speak on Thursday, January 20, at the 130th meeting of the Women's Club scheduled for the Shrine Club on River Road. His topic will be oceanic history especially in the Caribbean.

Col. Willock is a naval historian, lecturer and author. He is currently working on his fourth book. His previous writings dealt with the biographies of marine heroes and a naval history of Bermuda.

A social hour will follow the program with Mrs. J. Taylor Fish in charge. Mrs. Minnie C. Morgan, Jr., will be flower chairman.

COLLEGE CLUB TO MEET
For Steak Discussion. The Women's College Club will meet Monday to hear Mrs. Robert Miller discuss the stock market and the formation of investment clubs. The meeting will begin at 1:30 in the Unitarian Church.

Mrs. Miller has succeeded in starting more than 25 investment clubs throughout the country. She first became interested in the stock market and other investment opportunities when she became an executor for her husband's estate in 1950.

 Candidates will be asked to speak on what they consider the key issues the Borough School System will face in the next three years and how they would propose to meet them.
 Candidates will be permitted to answer the question at length as well as any questions from the floor. Township candidates for the Board of Education will also speak, although there is no contest in the Township.

38 TO BE HONORED

At Commencement Service, Princeton University will hold its annual Service of Commemoration at 11 this Sunday in the chapel. The service is in remembrance of 38 members of the University community — trustees, faculty, administration, members of the staff, graduate and undergraduate students — who died during 1965.

James F. Oates Jr., a charter trustee of the University and board chairman of Equitable Life Assurance Society, will give the address. Also taking part will be David P. Stewart, chairman of the undergraduates' Chapel Deacons. Dean of the Faculty J. Douglas Brown, President Robert F. Coates and Dean of the Chapel Ernest Gordon.

The service will honor former trustees Andrew C. Imbrie and Stephen F. Voorhees; from the faculty, Richard P. Blackmur, Luther P. Eisenhart, George W. Elderkin, Nathaniel H. Farnam, Edward L. Hubler, Robert M. Hurt, Richard Kuchemann, Arthur K. Parpart, John F. Sly, Lewis V. Thomas and Everett S. Walling.

From administration and staff, Artide L. Armonia, Annie Bastedo, Fred H. Buddenbaum, George F. Cahill, Robert Carter, Robert J. Fennell, Carmine Gallo, Arthur E. Hanks, Jacob A. Hausenbeck, Mary H. Jackson, Edward Jenkins, Christopher S. Kosmos, Henry Lebes, John Martin, Howard A. McShoe, John W. Mycock, Alfred J. Pratt, Anna Rogers, Harold G. Swagay, Rosaria Tamasi, Henry Thompson and Frederick W. Traeger.

And undergraduates William B. Hogan, Class of 1967; John G. McKay III and Philip A. Norton, both of the Class of 1968.

ACTIVITIES ANNOUNCED
 By Wellesley Club. The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey will hold a bridge luncheon this Thursday at noon at the Present Day Club, 72 Stuckton Street, Mrs. Sterling Anders, president of the club, will preside, assisted by Mrs. James Meigs, program chairman, and Mrs. Chas. E. Love, Jr., membership chairman.

Also planned by the club is a prospective student luncheon on Friday, January 21, at 4 at the home of Mrs. Anders, 601 Lake Drive. All private and public school sophomores, juniors and seniors interested in attending Wellesley College and their guidance counselors are invited. Pictures of the college will be shown and questions will be answered.

Among those attending will be Mrs. Ruth K. Wright, acquaintance chairman; Mrs. Charles Godney of Yardley, Trenton area vice president; Mrs. Harry Heiber Jr., scholarship chairman; Mrs. J. Love, membership chairman; and Ann Bennett and Jane Maslow, Wellesley undergraduates who are spending their junior year at Princeton University as participants in the Critics' Languages Program.

SPEAKER SCHEDULED
 For Douglas Alumnae. Dr. Cecelia H. Drewry, assistant professor in speech and dramatic art at Douglas College, will speak to the College Alumnae Club next Wednesday at 8 at the home of Miss Emily Post, 90 Westcott Road. Dr. Drewry is well known for her "One Woman Show" and as a former Princeton High School faculty member. Mrs. Val Fitch, Mrs. Donald Gray and Mrs. Kent Kilbourne will serve as hostesses for the meeting.

MEETING ANNOUNCED
 By Daughters of Scotia. Thistle Lodge 229 will hold its first meeting of the new year Friday at 8. Chief Daughter Jessie Stewart will preside. The meeting will be held at 2315 Witherspoon Street.

LUNCHEON PLANNED
 By Dogwood Garden Club. The Dogwood Garden Club will hold its luncheon meeting this Thursday at the home of Mrs. Gerald Lockyer, 16 Magalia Lane.

Beeson, 23 Willow Road. Mrs. Albert Beeson will serve as hostess chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Edwin C. Bleicher and Mrs. Joseph C. Bevis.

BFW TO MEET
 To Discuss Public Relations. The New Jersey State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., will meet Saturday at the Elizabeth Carlott hotel in Elizabeth. Representing the Princeton BFW will be Miss Kathryn Helms, Mrs. Ella L. Geddes, Mrs. Loretta Ward, Miss Mary Hensler and Mrs. Esther Stalker.

RULING MADE
 On site interference. The Appellate Division of Superior Court has supported the right of real estate broker Nicholas J. Manni of Franklin Township to sue another broker, Verold B. Throckmorton of Butler Road, for alleged malicious interference with his contractual rights.

Mrs. Manni was hired by Mrs. Victoria Spahn of Somerville in 1962 to sell a Kenilworth Park home which she owned jointly with her husband, from whom she was separated. She signed her husband's name to the agreement to sell the house although she did not have power of attorney to do so.

Mr. Throckmorton reportedly told Mrs. Spahn the agreement was worthless and persuaded her to let him sell the property. The Appellate Division, in overruling a lower court ruling, also said that Mr. Manni did not violate a state law setting realistic ethical standards by contracting with Mrs. Spahn without determining her legal right to sign her husband's name.

Obituaries

Dudley H. Morris Jr., of 21 Armour Road and Underhill Center, Vt., died on January 8 at his home after a long illness. A nationally-known artist, he had been chairman of the Lawrenceville School art department since its founding in 1935.

Born in New York City, Mr. Morris was a graduate of Phillips Andover Academy and Yale University. His paintings are among the permanent exhibits at Whitney Museum, Addison Gallery of American Art, the Yale University Museum, the Presbyterian Hospital, New York Hospital and the New Jersey State Museum. He did murals for the Harkness Pavilion and Children's Hospital in New York City.

He was author and illustrator of four children's books, one of which, "The Truck That Flew," became a movie.

He had a number of one-man shows of his paintings at the Madison Gallery and Walker Gallery in New York, Gallery 100 in Princeton, Munson Gallery, Chatham, Mass., and Dickson Gallery. He also exhibited at the Whitney Museum, Carnegie Art Institute, Chicago Art Institute, Cleveland and St. Louis Museums, Nye Gallery, New York World's Fair, San Francisco Exposition and the Rhode Island School of Design.

From 1944 to 1956, he was chairman of the art committee of the Secondary Education Association, and from 1955 to 1957 was president of the Independent Schools Art Instruction Association. He was a member of the Century Association in New York.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret E. Morris, two sons, Dudley E. Morris of Washington, D. C., and Alexander E. Morris of Princeton, and a sister, Mrs. David DuVivier of Paris.

The service was held in the Lawrenceville School Chapel, interment was at the convenience of the family. Arrangements were made by the Mother Funeral Home.

Mrs. Betty B. S. Rose, 48, formerly of Princeton, died on January 8 in La Jolla, Calif.

A native of South Germany, Mrs. Rose attended the Miami Vernon School for Girls in Washington, D. C. She was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church and had been a volunteer worker at Princeton Hospital.

She was married in 1944 to Col. Edward C. Rose, Jr. of Princeton and divorced in 1960. She moved to California in 1961.

Surviving are two daughters, Barbara and Hope of Princeton, and a sister, Mrs. John J. Gecoff of Short Hills.

The service was held in Montclair, with interment in the family plot in Mount Lebanon Cemetery. A memorial service will be held Friday morning at 11 a.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church. In lieu of flowers, gifts may be made in the Princeton Hospital Building Fund.

Mrs. Julia Jenei, 86, of 280 North Street, died on January 7 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. A native of Hungary, she was the widow of Alex Jenei.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Emory Tarklin of Princeton and Mrs. Joseph Ferenc of New York City, a son, Alex Jenei Jr. of The Bronx, N.Y., a sister, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The service was held on Tuesday at the Mother Funeral Home, interment was at the convenience of the family.

Joseph Jonek, 65, died suddenly on January 7 in Princeton Hospital. A native of Germany, he was employed for 11 years in the food service department at Princeton University.

Surviving are a brother, Paul Jonek of Jamaica, N.Y., a sister in Germany, and nieces and nephews.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Lucinda Davis of 450 Walnut Lane died on January 7 in Princeton Hospital. Born in North Carolina, she lived in this area for four years.

Thanks from Vietnam.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is not often that a U.S. serviceman has a fan club but I apparently have a chapter of such a club in the Princeton area. Beginning in early December I started receiving Christmas cards from people in and around Princeton, people of whom I had never even heard.

Since I do not live in Princeton, I could not figure out how so many people had obtained my name and address until one serviceman explained to me that he had seen my name on a list of servicemen serving in Vietnam which was published on Dec. 2, 1965 in TOWN TOPICS. Since I've received nearly 50 such cards, it would be impossible to write and thank each person individually for his kindness due to the very limited time I have for such purposes. So I am forced to write this "open" letter of thanks to all the people in and around Princeton who were so kind to remember me and the other men on the list published in TOWN TOPICS.

May I take this opportunity to express my very grateful appreciation to all those who responded to the call to remember us at Christmas here in South Vietnam. My thanks are also to TOWN TOPICS for publishing the list of servicemen in Vietnam.

It is very real privilege to be able to serve the United States in this particularly controversial effort and it is always heartening in the midst of demonstrations against our present policies here to see such a warm response to a call for support. This means much more to us than you can imagine when we are in a strange country, and half the time we don't even know what or whom we're fighting.

The 25 cents which you might have spent for the card plus the 8 cents for postage is in no way a measure of the pleasure which these many cards have brought to me and to those with whom I'm associated. More than perhaps you realize, our continued success here depends greatly upon your support and this you have shown through the Christmas cards which you sent.

Although my home is not in Princeton, I do have many friends there and I now see that I have more than I realized.

I hope to be back in the U.S. in about 5 months, but until that time I will continue to do my best to help the U.S. effort in Vietnam. Your support is very much appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
SP-4 Christopher B. Guild

In Appreciation of Miss Hurd.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I was deeply saddened by the recent death of Miss Jesse M. Hurd, my friend and fellow worker in the Princeton Summer Recreation Program during the past 20 years. It is my understanding that the Pine Street wading pool was constructed in 1943 by the Borough Recreation Department and that Miss Hurd has been its supervisor each summer since it was opened. It was truly her pool and she took great pride in it.

Over the years, she was a combination of teacher and mother to the hundreds of children who used it. Many of her children, now married and with children of their own, do not live in the Pine Street area but in other sections of the Princeton Community, would send their children to Miss Hurd. Also each summer there would be numerous visitors from other surrounding communities, including some of the children sent to Princeton each year from New York.

Miss Hurd loved all of them.

and they loved her. She always carried her magic bag, which included in its contents, crackers, gum, bubble gum, balloons, checkers, pick-up-sticks, chess, dominos and old masks.

I used to enjoy sitting with her briefly each afternoon because I enjoyed talking with her and just to observe her manner of handling children. If they needed tender love and care, they received it. If they decided discipline, they got it. Every child who came to me understood that she was in charge. She was a very patient woman and was constantly bombarded with questions and requests. For example "Miss Hurd, may I have a cracker?" "Miss Hurd, may I have a lollipop?" "Miss Hurd, may we have the checkers?" "Miss Hurd, may we play chess?" "Miss Hurd, I have to go to the bathroom."

She insisted on good conduct and good manners. "Thank you, Miss Hurd," was always required. We shall all miss her and I am certain that "her children will never forget her."

C. EDWARD CHRISTIAN
Trenton, N. J.

Editor's Note: Mr. Christian was for two decades director of the Summer Recreation Program which made Princeton playgrounds and wading pools possible.

Patterson Commended.
To the Editor of Town Topics: On behalf of the League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community I should like to congratulate Borough Mayor Henry Patterson for saying in his New Year's Day address that it is "my firm belief that we can provide a single educational system for the Princeton Community which will offer an even higher standard of education for our children without upping the Borough economic status."

In a later press conference, Mayor Patterson said he would be available to either school board in an official or semi-official capacity to help sort out the problems created by the recent anti-merger vote or by any future referendum on merger between the two systems.

The League holds a position in 51-01 of school merger and the Princeton Township school system. The League thanks Mayor Patterson for his sincere offer and adds its hope for a solution to the school problem by New Year's 1967.

"A Severe Loss."
To the Editor of Town Topics: The tragic death of Dudley Morris is a severe loss to his many friends and to the Princeton Community in which he lived.

As a teacher at Lawrenceville School, he was a strong influence in the lives of many. But it was in his recent work as a painter that Dudley Morris came into his own. His subtle landscapes, clear, simple and extraordinarily beautiful, were the treasured works of art. It is sad to know that there will be no more of them.

When a creative man is cut off in the prime of his active life, it is difficult to assess what might have happened had he been allowed to continue. If we were to project over the next ten years his career of production and progress similar to that of the last ten, we can imagine what Miss Morris. This is the extent of our losses which we will never see. These things which could have happened only if Dudley Morris had created them.

TOWNSHIP OF THE TOWN

BUDGET AT $1.1 MILLION
 For West Windsor Students, West Windsor Township's first million-dollar school budget will be discussed at a public hearing at 8 p.m. on Monday at the Maurice Hawk School. The Board of Education has tentatively approved a $1,119,117 budget for 1964-65, an increase of $175,357 over the current year.

The effect on residents' taxes has not been determined, but the board needs a local tax rate of $866.405, or about $181.000 more than before. The board gained approximately $1 million in rates during 1963, and the board estimates it will receive increased federal and state aid for the school system.

The budget increase for 1964-65 comes close to the increase in the 1964-65 budget passed by a 17-vote margin at the polls. It earmarks $800,000 for current expenses and $44,078 for capital improvement and $84,038 for debt service. Only current expenses are on the February 8 ballot, but that service is a fixed expense covering the bond issue raised to build the Maurice Hawk School.

Teachers' salaries account for $410,255 of the budget. The increase of $200,000 will give a minimum $2800 raise to the minimum $9 teachers, increasing the pay scale for a bachelor's degree from $3400 minimum $9,250 maximum. The old scale range was $5200 to $8,800. The budget item also covers the hiring of three new teachers, a part-time physical education instructor, and a greater use of two special portable teachers.

Cost of sending more than 300 West Windsor students to Princeton High School will amount to $244,140, an increase of $6,765, due to the increased tuition rate.

The $44,078 for capital improvements, includes $39,000 for a new heating system for the Dutch Neck School and $10,206 for instructional equipment. The debt service increases by $20,108 because of yearly payments on the Maurice Hawk School because due this summer.

PARTICIPANTS INCREASE

meeting at 8 p.m. on Sunday, January 23, in Pierce Hall of the Trinity Episcopal Church, 33 Mercer Street. New trustees will be announced.

The Princeton group, one of the oldest of the more than 80 such societies now active in the United States and Canada, is now affiliated with the Continental Association of Funeral and Memorial Societies. It is a non-profit, volunteer organization which aids its members with information and advice as to the restoration of simplicity and a reverent spirit to observances after death and on pre-planning to lessen the shock to bereaved survivors. Its purposes are endorsed by the Princeton Pastors' Association.

PLAN SUPPLY SHOWER

For Hospital. The Princeton Chapter of Hadassah will hold a supply shower for Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center at 8:30 p.m. next Wednesday, January 19, at the home of Mrs. Jerry Grey, 61 Adams Drive.

Dr. Ruth Avner, who emigrated from Czechoslovakia to Israel at the age of two will give a presentation at Hadassah Hospital Medical School, where she received her degree. She is a Princeton resident at present.

STATE CRACKS DOWN On Drivers' Licenses. Two Princeton residents have had their driving privileges suspended under the state's Point System Program for motorists. Margaret E. O'Neill, 79 Erdman Avenue, has had her license suspended for a month beginning December 25 and Edward P. Gubb, Elm Road, has had his suspended for two months, effective November 29.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Seymour Adler, Mrs. Arthur Garmann and Mrs. Irwin Glassman. Assisting Mrs. Gray are Mrs. Richard Bergman, Mrs. Ralph Heyman, Mrs. Daniel Mager and Mrs. Sidney Rosen.

PTO PANEL SCHEDULED

In Riverside. The Riverside P.T.O. will hold a panel discussion on "The Role of Special Services in Our Schools" on Tuesday at 8 in the all-purpose room of the Princeton School. The panel is invited.

Speaking on the panel will be members of the township school system's Special Services Group. This includes Dr. William Combs, psychiatrist; Mrs. Martha Montgomery, psychologist; Mrs. Jane Brooks, social worker; Norman Shapiro, learning specialist; Mrs. Ruth Shorter, enrichment co-ordinator; and Richard Shurcliff, psychiatrist.

STATE CRACKS DOWN

On Drivers' Licenses. Two Princeton residents have had their driving privileges suspended under the state's Point System Program for motorists. Margaret E. O'Neill, 79 Erdman Avenue, has had her license suspended for a month beginning December 25 and Edward P. Gubb, Elm Road, has had his suspended for two months, effective November 29.

$6000 IS GOAL

Of Study Center Drive. The Princeton Study Center has set a goal of $6000 in its current drive to raise funds for its four-part program including study hall, tutoring, reading and summer enrichment. The money will be used to pay a small part-time professional staff which directs more than 100 volunteers in the program.

Working on the fund drive are Mrs. Joseph Blane Jack Blumenthal, Mrs. Broun Boone, John Borden, Robert Formler, Mrs. Robert Rubin, Mrs. Benjamin Shimbarg, Henry Sommers and Mrs. Thomas Stur.

Contributions are tax-deductible. Checks should be made out to Princeton Study Center and should be sent to John Borden, 160 Dodge Road.

The World in Dimension. The current inventory of the Earth Science Center is across the hall from Slesee Associates in rooms that used to house a beauty parlor. Here on the wall is a dramatic colored three-dimensional map of the United States ($50), designed for classrooms but certainly wonderful for a den wall. A smaller map has smaller mountains and a smaller price tag: $5.

Clear plastic has been used for a 20-inch celestial sphere, with the globe of the earth nested inside. "You can get the relations between space and your own point on earth," Mr. Ludlum points out, "you can show the horizon at any point on earth, the rotation of the earth, the seasons — that kind of thing. For navigation, you can see the relation of the stars to time of day and your own position." When this celestial sphere is being used, the student has on his desk a little globe of the earth, six inches in diameter, information about the solar system and representations of the planets are on its base.

Whirling Space. Celestial globes are a specialty of the Earth Science Center, because nobody else specializes in them. One such globe, about 20 inches in diameter, is mounted with a horizon ring and a meridian ring, so the student can obtain declination and right ascension. These globes are used by the astronomy department at Princeton University, by the way.

Astronomy buffs will be amused by Mr. Ludlum's spiral — Continued on Page 24

MAN OF THE WORLD: Relief globes are specialties of the house at the Earth Science Center. One of these shows is a physiographic relief globe with removable inner and outer covers the way scientists think they probably look. Other globes describe the earth's relation to its solar system. The demonstrator is David Ludlum, who is making the earth and the stars his business.

BUSINESS In Princeton

TO HELP TEACHERS
 Scientific Tools for Sale. The job of selling the earth and the stars has been taken on by David Ludlum, well-known Princeton weatherman, who runs Science Associated. From his new Earth Science Center at 230 Nassau, Mr. Ludlum sends out bits of the world all over the world, providing teachers with the latest and best instruments for teaching geology, astronomy and meteorology.

We bring to the attention of teachers all the new kinds of equipment they can use in classrooms," Mr. Ludlum explains. "In recent years, there has been an increased interest in the earth sciences, and there is much that teachers can use now that wasn't available before."

This spring the Earth Science Center will bring out two new products: pollution test kits to test pollution in soil, water or air, and a clear solar system simulator.

The kits, geared to the high school level, are designed to serve a laboratory of 30 students. The solar system simulator is a single electrical device which shows the motions of the major planets. The teachers assemble it on her desk, plug it in — thereby presumably illustrating the "big bang" theory of the creation of the planets. No stars in the simulator — only the solar system.

ART In Princeton

"CREATIVE ILLUSTRATION." The Princeton Art Association's January exhibit, by McCarty Theatre consists of work done for Boys' Life Magazine by four well-known illustrators: Norman Rockwell, Al Parker, Fletcher Martin and Jacob Lundu.

Jacques Kupferman, Gallery 100 presents paintings by Jacques Kupferman who has long been associated with McCarty Theatre. This is his first one-man show in several years. Open through February 6th.

Nancy Kern, The Present Day Club has on view paintings by Nancy Kern, Princeton artist, through January 28th. The public is requested to telephone for appointments to see the pictures, due to the press of other activities.

"ART," an exhibition of paintings, sculpture, graphics, and other works by faculty members of college art departments from New Jersey colleges will be open from January 9th to February 8th in the Main Gallery of the New Jersey State Museum, Cultural Center on West State Street Trenton. Open Mondays through Saturdays, 9 to 5 and Sundays, 2 to 5.

Group Show. The Nassau Club will exhibit work by twenty Princeton artists from January 15th to February 15th. The public is invited to see the pictures from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. almost every day, but are asked to check at the desk upon entering.

Adult School Art Work. At the Princeton Art Association Headquarters, 14 Nassau Street, sixty paintings done by students in The Adult School Classes will be shown through next Monday. Open to the public weekdays, 1 to 3 p.m.

ART SHOW PREPARED To Display Area Work. Three Princeton area cartoonists will be featured in the "Outstanding show at the Princeton Art Association, 14 Nassau Street. It will open on Tuesday and run through mid-February.

Michael Ramus Arnold Rath and Henry Martin will display their works under the general title "Satirical Drawings." Mr. Ramus has had his work appear in Life magazine and the Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Rath, whose work has been reproduced in Holiday magazine, The Post and Sports Illustrated, is also represented in the Society of Illustrators Annual. Mr. Martin, responsible for the organization of the show, has had his work featured in the New Yorker and the Post, as well as many other national publications.

seals will sit around like a pinwheel to get the feel of the thing.

A three-inch telescope and smaller 1.6-inch brother are primary teaching tools for astronomy. Actually, Mr. Ludlum can obtain any size right up to Palomar.

"If I were to design and make it," Mr. Ludlum says of his business, "nobody else does this for teachers."

Much of the Earth Center's business comes from small school systems in rural or remote areas of the United States, and of the world, for that matter. Orders have been shipped to Waila, New Zealand, Israel and England as well as to far-flung states in the United States.

On Land and Sea. Coming down to earth, Mr. Ludlum displays eight geology models which demonstrate folded mountains, glaciers, a desert fault line, the eastern ocean — any kind of land for examination a student might need. Each is a little table model with underlying strata clearly pointed and each field and hill clearly molded.

The geology demonstration kit offers an erupting, non-flammable volcano with an elevation of 10 inches, and a folded mountain that looks like a piece of curving roadway in a child's block set.

Most fun of all is a portable field trip. Mr. Ludlum presents a steam train which can show water erosion development, and almost anything else the teacher can think of. The kit includes a recirculating pump system, a wave generator and a couple of portable rain trays.

Since Mr. Ludlum's specialty is weather, the Earth Science Center has a wind speed direction and speed; a recording barometer, rain gauge and about 200 different weather instruments, all told.

It is the largest collection in the country," Mr. Ludlum observes with quiet modesty. "We have maximum thermometers, rain gauges, barometers and indicators, rain recorders and snow gauges."

Valley Road School has the Earth Science Center's wind instruments and the Princeton Junior Museum owns the three-inch telescope.

OFFICERS ANNOUNCED By Chamber of Commerce

Alfred L. Lenhart has been chosen seventh president of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce for 1968. He will be installed Saturday evening at a dinner-dance sponsored by the Chamber at the Princeton Inn.

Other officers announced include Melvin C. Firman as senior vice president, Albridge C. Smith III as second vice president, and William R. Breese as treasurer.

Mr. Lenhart is the head of Lenhart and Company, Inc., a public relations and advertising agency, and Lenhart Publishing Company. Mr. Firman is with the agricultural center of American Cyanamid Company. Mr. Smith is a practicing attorney, and Mr. Breese is controller for the Sarnoff Research Center of RCA.

In addition to the new officers, six new members have been elected to the Chamber's board of directors for three years. They are Dr. William H. Allen, Union Gap Camp Research Center; Ridgely W. Cook, Edmund Cook Real Estate; Mr. Firman, Everett B. Garrettson, Clayton's; Leonard LaPice, Nassau Interiors and John C. Yeaman, Palmer Square, Inc.

Named directors-at-large for the coming year were: William A. Dobson, Investors Syndicate; John H. Houghton, Houghton Real Estate; Dr. Isaac Johnson, FMC Corporation; Arthur P. Morgan, Clark Dodge & Company; Lear L. Quackle, Princeton University Store; and James T. Richmond, Westminster Choir College.

OPEN COMPUTER CENTER An about the business Princeton researchers and businessmen can now feed their knotty problems into a computer without leaving their offices or laboratories. Since the highly sophisticated PDP-8 computer is time-shared, it may be used simultaneously without waiting.

The new facility is the Apple II computer system telecomputing center at 1 Palmer Square, opened this week as New Jersey's first time-shared multiple purpose, data processing center.

Richard M. Colgate, ALC president, said the center makes a significant increase in the company's facilities, owing to the large capacity of the computer itself and to the multiple simultaneous usage possible. Dr. James R. Guard, vice-president; Dr. William H. Easton and Dr. John H. Bennett, senior mathematicians, have responsibility for the center's operations.

Drs. Guard and Bennett are on leave from Princeton and Michigan to devote full time to the Center. Dr. Easton, formerly with Princeton, directs systems programming. Dr. Thomas H. Mott Jr. and William D. Nelson, vice-presidents, are in charge of sales and administration.

Initially, five of the sending and receiving consoles will operate simultaneously by spring, as many as 30 of the center's users will have access at the same time. The center also offers background runs during non-prime hours and consultation on adoption of existing programs and development of new programs.

NEW HOMES UNDER WAY On Herndonstown Road. Seven new homes under construction on Herndonstown Road, west of the intersection of Sowden Lane, will form the basis for Point-of-Woods. The homes will be custom constructed on one and one-half wooded acre plots with the location and street plan leading the atmosphere of a semi-private community to the area.

The builders are Stanley I. Pishaw and Lewis S. Kraft, both of Princeton, who are currently constructing the homes in Lawrenceville known as Longacres, At Point-of-Woods, the first two homes under construction will each have five bedrooms and 3,000 square feet of living space. The price range for the new homes will be between $50,000 and $60,000.

RACE TAKES SHAPE
Men. Boys Already Separated
A nine-game schedule quip that sent the four top Ivy basketball teams against the four weaker quarters in the first full week of competition has given the standings the general form they will in all probability have when the seasons ends in early March. This is not to say that Columbia necessarily will win its first title in 15 years, but rather that the four teams currently ranked in first division are quite likely to remain there, with the others battling among themselves to stay out of the cellar. Because of the odd schedule alignment, all eight of last week's results ran completely contrary to basketball form: in every game played, the home team lost.

If there is a take-charge quint in this year's race, it has yet to emerge, although the guess here is that it might be Pennsylvania. The Quakers have two players in Stan Pawlak and Jeff Neuman who have been all-Ivy selections for two years running, can field good depth and appear to have adequate depth.

Both Cornell and Columbia ran into trouble away from home last week, the "LITTLE BROTHER." Sophomore John Harlow is the youngest of three brothers to play basketball for Princeton, but at 6-6, he is actually the tallest. Used in a reserve capacity, he is averaging in double figures.

Lins barely defeating a weak Harvard entry at Cambridge, 75 to 73, and Cornell going into overtime at Harvard to edge a very routine Dartmouth team, 49 to 57. The score at the end of regulation time was 46-41, an amazingly low misfit for a Cornell quint that had been averaging well over 80 points a game.

Dartmouth, Harvard Here. The final two games Princeton's defending champions will play before the term-end examination break bring Dartmouth to Dillen Gym Friday and Harvard the following night. Both contests will start at 8 o'clock.

Beaten in seven of its first nine games, Dartmouth occasionally has a player who will produce upwards of 15 points but the Green is markedly short of all-around ability. Gunnar Malm at 6-7, Bill Reilly, 6-6, and Pete Dunlap, 6-5, are the big men; sophomore Joe Colgan, Bill Engeler and Captain Neil Castaldi are others who will be considerable actors.

Harvard has only two good players and only four lettermen. Keith Sealack averaged 23.7 points in Ivy action last season to finish third in the scoring while 6-5 Barry Williams, the captain, contributed good floor play.

The Crimson began the week with a record of three victories

SKATERS HEAD NORTH
Free Dartmouth Saturday.
Cornell with the difficult task of defeating an improving hockey team on its own ice.
Princeton's skaters will go to Hanover, N.H., Saturday to play Dartmouth. In contrast to the mid-week game with Colgate, Dartmouth has won its last three to raise its season record to 4-4.

The Indians took a 5-4 overtime battle from Princeton in the New Year's tournament at Watkins and since then have tapped Norwich, 6-2, and Yale, 6-3. They lost a previous meeting with the Elis by a 10-3 margin, and believe they have believed their defense as an un-perfected goalie and blue line players see more game action.

At Ithaca last week Princeton lost the game and apparently broke even in the fight that almost invariably marks contests in which Cornell plays this year. The third-period battle was sufficiently serious so that two players from each team were ruled off the ice.

In all, there were 19 penalties worth a total of 30 minutes
When Yale played at Ithaca, there were 24 penalties, all of the two-minute variety, and several scuffles among the players.

In the game, which saw Cornell win, 6-0 to hand the lessors their first whitewash of the season, the score was only
-0-0 at the end of the first period. The fled then beat goalie Graeme Flinders three times in 12 1/2 minutes in the second round to sew up the decision.
Princeton had only 22 shots
on the goal during the game.
Flinders making 25 saves in addition to his "hat" had been got by him, Cornell's attack generally dominated action during the last two periods.

BIG TEN vs. IVY
Ohio State has been in swimming. One of the top collegiate swimming teams in the nation will be here Saturday at 3
Princeton for its first meet against the "Tigers." Despite flood depth and the presence of several excellent swimmers on the Orange and Black squad, the Big Ten representatives are heavily favored.

The Buckeyes have the NC-AA champion in the 200-yard medley, Bob Hopper setting a marc of 1:58.1 to win the event
last season. Oliver Randy Larson is the NCAA titleholder off the three-meter board and teammate Chuck Knorr holds the same title in AAU competition. Ohio State's freestyle relay team may better Yale's current national mark of 3:07.2
before the season ends.

Princeton has half a dozen holders of University marks, including Kris Brown with a

Jacqueline Goldberg was determined to become self-reliant ... and telephone man Dick Robinson had an idea.

Today, Jacqueline Goldberg operates one of the most successful telephone answering services in Atlantic City. Yet, seventeen years ago, she was in a rehabilitation hospital after a severe case of polio. Doctors told her she would be bedridden for life. She refused to accept that.

She called the telephone company to inquire about the possibility of opening a telephone answering service. New Jersey Bell's Dick Robinson came to see her. He found that she did not have the reach necessary to use regular switchboard equipment. He arranged for special equipment for her—equipment that proved ideal for Jackie.

As her therapy progressed, Dick came often to work, carrying her to his car on several occasions to take her to see other answering services in operation.

Fourteen years ago, Jackie began her own service. Today, she has all the customers she can handle—everyone from doctors to appliance repairmen. She's only missed two days of work in those fourteen years. She still hears from Dick Robinson. Jacqueline's a remarkable woman who has a busy and satisfying career—thanks to her courage and a telephone man's interest.

HUN LOSERS FIRST
To Pennington, 48-38. Playing for the first time since December 8 when it won its opener, the Hun School basketball team was upended Saturday by Pennington School, 48-38, on the victor's court.

The mouth-biting layoff had an adverse effect on Hun's shooting was evident from the scoring. The figures for Hun for the final three quarters read 9-8-8.

"It was just a matter of rustiness," said Dave Lee, Hun's personable young coach, who is leading the basketball team for the first time. The Springfield College graduate added: "We just couldn't shoot; we just couldn't get the ball in the basket."

Most effective shooter by far for the losers was their high-scoring co-captain Mike Miller, who tallied 20 points. Mike now has 53 in two games. No one else scored more than four for Hun. At the end of the first period, Hun led 13-10, but thereafter it was the victim of Hun's run-in, three-quarter scoring drought.

For Pennington, it was its third straight victory in the Penn-Jersey League. Steve Kalutin pumped in the bulk of Pennington's points—25—to enable the Red Raiders to remain undefeated. After the contest, Lee commented: "They're the best team I've seen so far in the League. Hun is 1-1 in league competition."

On Friday at 3:30, Hun will entertain Moorestown at a n.d. George School on Wednesday at 3:45, both league opponents. All Hun home games are played at the Theological seminary gymnasium. According to Lee, both schools like Hun have lost once in league play and so if Hun has hopes of overtaking the streaking Pennington squad, a victory in both outings is in order.

SKI CLUB PLANS TRIP
To Sugar Bush Area. The Princeton Ski Club will meet at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, January 19, at the Pine Bar Club for a planning session on the January 22 weekend at Sugar Bush-Glen Ellen. Interested skiers are invited to attend. Robert Craig of Plainsboro is in charge.

NEW HUN COACH: Dave Lee, a graduate of Springfield College, has taken over as coach of the Hun School basketball team. He succeeds Robert Simpson who left to assume a position at St. Louis. For the past two years, Lee has coached the Hun wrestling squad and served as assistant head football coach Hawley Waterman.

Speaker at the meeting will be Frank Hurt of the Head Ski Company who will discuss "Ski Equipment and Aspects of Design and Manufacture." A color film will also be shown.

Club members and friends plan a one-day trip to Scotch Plains, near Stamford, N. Y. this Sunday. Information may be obtained from Peggy Faulstich, 231A Franklin Avenue (phone 921-7853).

A second one-day trip is scheduled for Sunday, January 30, to Windham, N. Y. Jane Anderson of Hopewell 486-1841 is in charge of arrangements.

FLYING FISH RESUME
With Pair of Victories. The YMCA Flying Fish Club recorded two victories last week, the boys defeating Somerset Valley YMCA, 128-62, while their female counterparts were equally as effective in out-swimming the Somerset girls, 127-76.

The boys swept 14 of 21 individual events and two of the four relay races. Individual winners were Mark Hoffman, Chuck Hector, Robert Meusel, Bill and Kevin Noonan, David Schmidt, Jim Smoltz, Steve Payne, Bill Crell, Bill Cook and Dave Morgan.

For the girls, now 3-1, first place winners were Colleen Hector, Pamela Sorz, Michele Stoddard, Dede O'Hara, Marla Lasley, Jane Fremont, Judy Grammes, Karen Ryan, Debbie Ryan and Pat Hector. Joanne Schwartz, Dede Hersmann, Maura Dorgan and Martha Lasley won the 100-yard freestyle relay for girls 16 and under. The 200-yard relay for girls 13-14 was captured by Debbie Ryan, Colleen Hector, Michele Stoddard and Jane Fremont, and the 200-yard relay for girls 15-17 by Margaret Conville, Lee Elmurray, Pat Hector and Judy Grammes.

BOWLING NOTES
Nick Rosal Rolls 247. Games of 200 or more were as plentiful as Mike Quill hatters last week in the 12 League of the Princeton Recreation Center. No fewer than 18 were rolled, with Nick Rosal's 247 topping the list.

Jack Lucey and Fred Goeke each had a pair of fine games, with Lucey checking in with a 228-213 and Goeke a 215-111. Other high scores were Bill Dumble, 224, Bill Penell.

Jerry Perpetua and Claude Pinelli, 216; Joe Kline, 215, and Bill Murphy and Bill Cavanaugh, 213.
In team standings, Princeton Del and Key Shop are knotted for first place with 49 wins each. Mail Electric, Central Paper and Balestrieri trail at 36, 34, 32.

Decker's Dairy, in first place last week in the Three-Nation Classic League, yielded that position to Johnson's Electric. Deckers is now one point back with 33½ wins, while Turney Motors and Kline's Esso are in a virtual tie for third place with 29½ and 26 wins.

Bill Penelli was the evening's most consistently fine bowler, posting a 610 series on games of 200-269-322. Joe Baldino claimed the highest single game, a 232. Others entering the handy millions of 200 plus were Mike Pinelli and Jack Lacey, both 213; Bill Cifelli, 210; Frank Coveley, 206; Ed Duncan, 204; and Dick Fowler, 202.

The second half in the Tri-County Firemen's League finds Mercer No. 3 and Princeton No. 1 off to a quick start. Both are tied for first place with six wins. Two wins back are tied for second place, are Kingston, Princeton Junction, and Plainsboro.

Highlights were Joe Cavanaugh's signing 242 game and three solid scores—580, 579, and 572—turned in by Len Luck, Mike Kopliner and Paul Tereak. Kopliner's 579 came on games of 191-192-194.

Other fine single game efforts: a 228 by Bucky Cupples, a 217 by John Fitzpatrick, a 213 by Luck; a 214 by Stanley Donald and a 212 by Alex Dublin.

Little was decided in the way of team standings at the start of the second half in the Nassau League. After one week six teams were tied for first place with four wins, and the bottom six were all equal with two wins each.

A 210 fashioned by Gib Ireland, represented the high single game in the league, and the high series, 199-188-201 (589) was rolled by Mike Kopliner, Alberta Petrella had 213, Richard Pinelli a 212, Bob King a 202 and Carl Perazoni a 200.

Maui Electric broke its tie with Nassau Conover for first place in the Princeton Business Women's League. Maui has the top spot all to itself with 40 wins, while Conover dropped back by two. Claridge Liquor and Teen Age Shoes are tied for third place with 32 wins.

Sports Both Hot and Cold

Some like it hot and some like it cold, and for 364 days of 1965 the weatherman wasn't able to please both. But on December 31, he kept everyone happy as both skiers and golfers enjoyed their sports in Mercer County.

According to Richard J. Coffee, president of the Mercer County Park Commission, 271 golfers used the links at Princeton Country Club and Mountain View, while at the same time 74 skiers traveled the slopes at Belle Mountain on artificial snow. He said this was the first time such a occasion has occurred during the recent years.

The golfers enjoyed unusually warm temperatures on the last day of 1965 while skiers used snow made on three previous nights during a cold spell for their ski runs.

Marilyn Silvester was pretty much the whole show, posting a high single game of 226 and the high series, a 562.

Second and third best were Carole Harris, 162-192-193 (547) and Helen Tamasi, 194 and a 503 series. Diane Folwer had a 182.

Stew Bell, 187, Mike Skillman 168, and Ken Greb, 164, were bunched for top individual performers in the Blue Angels Hi-Y League. Harry Cahn rolled a 157.

The Tigers, who wrestled first place from the Sharks last week, remained on top, widening their lead to 6 wins.

The Wildcats moved into second place with 28 wins, and the Sharks dropped to third with 26.

STEINERT Buries PHS
Lawrenceville Next Feb. Only twice in 24 games last season did William Hines, Princeton High's scoring ace, score less than in Steinert history had a Spartan Tiger scored more. The combination added up to a humiliating defeat for the Little Tigers here Tuesday afternoon as Steinert buried them with an awesome display of shooting and rebounding. The clock stopped the horror at 105-58.

The battered Blue and White will have to recover its pride in short order. In three days, Coach Tony Borzok's squad will make the short trip to Lawrenceville on Friday to take on the undefeated Larches who have won four straight games since 2-30 Tuesday at 3-43. PHS will play host to Somerset.

At the start of the final quarter Tuesday's rout, the little issue yet to be settled was how soon Steinert would hit the century mark. Midway in the final eight minutes, the mail ball vocal Spartans cheering section began to shout: "We want 100." With 2:06 remaining, they got it, 101 to 48.

Times finished with a sub par 10 points, 15 below his seven game average this year of 23.4. But it is doubtful if five sharp Hines' could have contained the rampaging Spartans.

Swish, Swish, Swish. To the beleaguered Little Tigers it seemed as if everything the Spartans shooters let fly went "swish." When not hitting from outside, the taller Spartans were cutting the home team up under the boards. No matter if the first shot didn't drop; another, two, three more would follow.

In striving to attain a school scoring record, coach Jim Wilcox's squad made it with plenty to spare. The 100 points was 17 more than the school's previous high of 83.

In the same contest, Steinert's Darrell Oels established a school record for three years. Needing 17, Oels connected for 22 for a total of 571 points. Teammates Don Hess and Rick Wallace hit for 73 and 50 points for 75 among the three of them.

One bright spot for Princeton was the continued fine play of 6-3 Ken Lyons. Lyons emerged as its top scorer with 18 points. In putting two fine games back-to-back, Ken has hit for 37 points. In all, 11 players scored for PHS with Tom Wood's eight and Lou Balesier's six trailing Lyons' and Hines' output. Bill Cusumano, popular 13th player on the squad — Borzok's "shock absorber" — made his first points of the season, two free throws.

DAY SCHOOL WINS
Quiet Triumph, 59 to 39. The first basketball game played by the Princeton Day School resulted in a one-sided victory over Rutgers Prep. When PHS rolled to a 93-39 decision, the score topped any previously recorded by Princeton Country Day School, one of the two PHS predecessors. Captain Bill Rigot contributed 29 points and Craig Page added 21. Nicky Ross was credited with 14 rebounds.

ST. PAUL'S 3-FOR-3
In Four Days, Playing three games in four days, the St. Paul's School basketball team won all three to increase its record to 8-1 and first place in the grammar school division of the Mercer County C.Y.O. League. Overall, the team is having an off day with its last of the 26.

Monday, St. Paul's defeated

Witherspoon School, 76 to 48, behind the 38-point shooting of its captain, Mike Maguire. Harry Norton and Mike Tomlinson contributed 16 and 15 points and Mickey Chaput had seven to round out all the scoring for the victors.

All but eight of Witherspoon's 48 points were accounted for by Rick Embrey and Jim Miller who connected for 20 each. A 21-point performance in the second period enabled Witherspoon to come within two at the half, 26-26, but thereafter it was all St. Paul's.

An outclassed St. James' team had little chance against St. Paul's in a Sunday encounter, losing 59 to 23.

As usual, Maguire had a top edge in scoring, netting 31. Next in line were Tomlinson with nine and Bob Sweezy with seven points.

On Friday, it was the newly-formed Princeton Day School's turn to be cut down. The score was St. Paul's 57, PDS 35-58.

This time, the St. Paul's team was more evenly distributed, with 10 of his 12-member squad figured in the scoring. Harry Norton collected nine points and Pete Sweezy seven, while Maguire could almost be accused of having an off day with his total of 26.

MUSIC

MIXED RECEPTION

For Arloian Chamber Players. On Monday night, the Arloian Chamber Players presented a concert at 10 McColl Hall with two Chamber Music programs sponsored by the Princeton University Concert Association.

Members of the ensemble were: Lewis Kaplan, violin; Thomas Nyenger, flute; Lloyd Greenberg, clarinet; and Gloyd Kalish, piano. The program included the Tulo Sonata in G Major by J.S. Bach; Mozart's Trio for clarinet, viola and piano in E Flat Major; the Madrigal Sonata by Marini; the "Contrasts for Violin, clarinet and piano" and a work composed especially for the quartet of players, entitled, "Contra Mortem at Tempest" by George Rochberg.

Chamber Music is an extremely varied musical idiom. Mixed groups are less common than family groupings such as string quartets, woodwind quintets and brass ensembles, but the combination of a woodwind, string and piano can be colorful, quite lyrical, if transparent.

The Arloian Players presented a program that brought out some of their qualities but also a few others that were not as appealing. For one thing the balance between violin and clarinet left something to be desired.

One heard the beautiful tone of Mr. Greenberg's clarinet all right, but Mr. Kaplan's tone was often slightly. The most obvious problems with the ensemble playing occurred during the Mozart Trio.

Here, Mr. Kaplan's viola playing was simply below the standard of professional artistic performance. His intonation was insecure and the tone seemed at times uncontrolled. At times the piano seemed a bit loud for the balance of the ensemble.

The Rochberg score, composed in 1965 presented many interesting and haunting sonorities. The use of plucked piano strings, fluttertongues of effects in the winds amidst college or pizzicato on the violin, sharp dynamic and rhythmic contrasts aroused this listener's interest considerably but only up to a point.

The creativeness of Mr. Rochberg's idiomatic instrumental writing is not to be denied, but a composition is more of more stuff than tone and effect. One cannot abide the tendency of a type of musical style that suggests literal utterances but never actually makes them.

There was simply too much staccato, stopping and plain tuning resulting from the composer's intent in defying the law of rhythmic flow. Music must flow as a car travels on road to its destination.

Rochberg's score can best be described as a traffic jam.

The Mozart Sonata which followed the Rochberg after the intonation was a light, unexciting piece, quite characteristic of the Czech composer's style of the 1940's, very busy, with some tender lyric passages for the flute, played very beautifully by Mr. Nyenger.

The best music of the concert came with the performance of the concluding work, the "Contrasts for Violin, Clarinet and Piano" by Bartok. This too is a humorous piece, but it is a complete composition, one that is highly developed, individual and substantial musical work.

The Arloian Chamber gave it a clear and polished performance, though this writer has heard more idiomatic presentations of this work. The solo here must again be attributed to the violinist's interpretation, which simply did not possess sufficient tonal brilliance or enough rhythmic excitement.

With Amateurs. Franz Josef Haydn's "Terese" Mass will be sung this Sunday by members of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs. Singers will gather at 5 P.M. at the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies. The university campus Walter Nollner will conduct. Soloists will be Deborah Trusall, soprano; William Tregg, bass, and a tenor to be chosen. Singers who wish to attend should call Mrs. Melvin B. Gotsch at 821-1111.

ORGANIST TO PLAY

In All-Bach Recital. Carl Weinrich, University Chapel organist, will give an all-Bach recital in the chapel this Sunday at 3:30. The recital will be in memory of Eileen Woolworth McCann, who gave the chapel organ.

The program will include the Toccata and Fugue in F Major, Fugue in E Major in C Minor, First Sonata in C Major and Prelude and Fugue in G Major. Following the recital Mr. Weinrich will begin a concert tour which will take him to the west coast.

DEMONSTRATION SET

In Usual Program. The New School for Music, 353 Nassau Street, has planned a unique program for January 23. "An afternoon at the New School for Music today" will provide parents, public and music teachers with an opportunity to see a demonstration of the school's musical and educational aims for group planning.

Beauty On The Square

Did you know that permanent waving is an oxidizing process? It is a controlled method of changing the structure, quality and form of the hair. This same oxidizing process, the changing of the hair structure, can and does take place in a natural and uncontrolled manner, also. It takes place through the chemical interaction of a form of heat, air and an alkaline condition.

For example, the heat of the sun together with the air reacts on the hair and creates change. We call it sun damage or fading, or split ends. We also know that the more alkaline the hair is bleached or highly processed, the more it dries and quicker it will "oxidize" or fade and split. It is this knowledge applied logically and scientifically, that makes it possible to give a lasting, soft-looking wave that will hold sets and will not relax after the first shampoo.

There are eight steps to beautiful Permanent Waving: Shampooing, Protein conditioning, Wrapping, Waving Lotion, Curl, Testing Neutralizing, Protein Acidifying, Setting. For the best results that can be obtained in Permanent Waving and Body Waves come to TAVERNHOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 40 Palmer Square West... or call 924-3883.

Don't cut to a Permanent Wave to the complete style... every culture is a better culture if it is understood by the RIGHT Permanent Wave.

and students in the junior department. Student participants will include all the group students who started piano last September, plus representative students from groups in their third, fifth and eighth years of study. Participating faculty members will be Miss Frances Clars, school director; Richard Chromister and David Kraushmuhl, composer - in residence.

The program will be held in the recital hall at the school starting at 4. The public is invited.
